Description

Black-capped chickadee on a branch

The Black-Capped Chickadee is an all-time favorite with its black cap and bib, white cheeks and buffy sides. This acrobatic bird is found in woodland areas and is common to backyard bird feeders, where it dines on anything from suet and sunflower seeds to doughnuts and peanut butter. With patience, it will feed from your hand.

The Black-Capped Chickadee carving, mounted on a wooden tree branch, has captured the playful expression of the bird and is sure to please. All of our life-sized birds are carved from bass wood, are hand-feathered to show detail and painted with acrylic paint. The eyes are glass, feet are metal and base is wood.
